

DakNet™ Client Services

Enabling the next 2 billion email accounts.

Overview

The dominant method of communication over the Internet is email which allows the rapid exchange of information and ideas across great distances at minimal cost. In much of the developing world this is not a form of communication that is easily accessible: the costs of supporting a traditional network infrastructure are simply too high. However, with the advent of the DakNet™ solution from First Mile Solutions, people living in even the most remote locations can use email over a functional and affordable network infrastructure.

Once a First Mile Solutions network service point has been established at a location, DakNet™ Client Services provide a fully-featured hosted email service that allows each user to setup an email account. DakNet™ enables users to send and receive email using standard email client software programs (such as Outlook or Eudora) as well as First Mile Solution's browser-based multi-user email client with built-in multiple language support.

Features

First Mile Solutions provides a robust, easy-to-deploy email system that enables global communication at an affordable cost to all, including:

- Integration with standards-based email clients
- Comprehensive set of communication tools
- Secure, browser-based client interface

- Supports multiple users with privacy features
- Built-in multiple language support
- Anti-virus and anti-spam tools (requires appropriate DakNet™ Host Services configuration)
- Multiple-platform support: compatible with Windows® and Linux operating systems
